WE NEED YOU!

We are searching for some of our current nursing students to provide their nursing tips for our new column "Nursing School Survival Guide."

Being a nursing student isn't easy and we get reminded of that with each new assignment we're handed. However, we don't have to go through all that hard work and stress alone! We hope to provide some insight to our fellow nursing students to help keep them afloat in the sea of learning. If you have a tip that has helped get you through nursing school, we would LOVE to hear it!

NURSING SCHOOL SURVIVAL GUIDE

The number one thing that has helped me get through nursing school is taking the information we learn in bit by bit. Rather than trying to digest all of the information at once, I break it down and learn each concept one step at a time. It makes studying way more manageable and allows me to build on the information I learned prior.

BEYOND THE SCRUBS: KEEPING IT PROFESSIONAL

ONLINE IMAGE OF NURSING WORKSHOP

As we prepare to enter the fall semester, I want to get us off to a good start with a virtual Image of Nursing workshop focusing on our professional composure/comportment--thinking, feeling and acting like a professional nurse. Nursing school is where it all starts and although we all want to be professional, this concept is not always easy to explain. Weaving professional behavior into the very fabric of our education is essential both in the classroom, simulation lab and clinical area. Join me and your fellow nursing students as we engage in rich discussion and explore, "Keeping it Professional."

Chair, Image of Nursing Committee

DATE & TIME: THURSDAY, AUG 17, 2023
7:00PM- 8:00PM EDT

At this free virtual Image of Nursing workshop, we will share ideas about how nursing students can have professional composure inside and outside of class and clinical to better prepare for successful future RNs.

Discussion: Professional identity formation in nursing--how to be professional in your career as a nurse starting as a nursing student—includes the 4 pillars of professional identity formation in nursing: Values and ethics; knowledge; nurse as leader; professional comportment; What's it's like to think, act and feel like a professional nurse.
